ABOUT THE CAMPUS

The Old College Campus is situated at the heart of Krishnagar town, Nadia District of West Bengal. This campus dates back to 1970. This is aligned along Ananta Hari Mitra Road. This is easily approachable from Krishnagar City Jn. Railway station (2.9 km only) as well as from Bus Road (highway).

This campus consists of three separate buildings overlooking the central playground. There are departmental classrooms of Commerce, Bengali, English, Sanskrit, Geography, History, Philosophy, Political Science, Education and Physical education.

There are other rooms of Principal's chamber, Library, college staffroom, office room, computer Room, laboratory rooms, conference room, smart class room, Information & Communication technology (ICT) room, auditorium, gym, Students' common room (both for boys and girls) and last but not the least students' union room. There is a study centre of IGNOU in this campus which has several dedicated classrooms for this academic activity. There is also girls' hostel within this campus. There are clean, purified, drinking water taps for the students and staff members within the college campus.

Since the present campus has a space constraint for the existing infrastructure and the number of departments kept on increasing with time, there has been growing requirement for a new college campus. Keeping in view with this dire necessity of additional place for the expansion of the college, the new Second Campus has recently come up at a distance (about 2.4 km) from the old campus within the Krishnanagar town only.

The Second Campus of Dwijendralal college is located at Goda Danga area along Majhdia Road. The Second Campus has been well-planned and designed to accommodate many departments, office, laboratory, staffroom, computer room, canteen and a large playground. Presently, this campus has only one building but there are plans to expand it on two sides of it as separate wings.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

On the 4th of August 1968, we started our journey of emancipation of knowledge as Krishnagar College of Commerce to address the people's ardent necessity and interest in Commerce Education. Back in those days, the new-born college arranged all its classes at the premises of Debnath High School. After a year the classrooms shifted to Krishnagar Anglo Vernacular High School till 1970 when the College acquired its place at the current location of its presence. As it started growing with time, it began to embrace multiple disciplines into its arena of courses. It was in 1993 that Krishnagar College of Commerce came with the new name of Dwijendralal College as a tribute to the great poet and freedom-fighter of the land Sri Dwijendralal Roy and also as an obvert hint to its expanding interest in diversification following the path of the versatile legend with which it is eponymously connected. Thus in 2003, a diversification of the institution took place with the expansion of curricular and pedagogical emphasis to disciplines of Humanities along with Commerce Education.

Today the college extends over two campuses in the city of Krishnagar with undergraduate and postgraduate courses on various disciplines of Humanities and Commerce and is recognized under section 2(f) and included under section 12 (B) of UGC Act 1956, vide letter number UGC/3511-52L-8 dated 31/03/1993. In the initial stage, the college was affiliated with the University of Calcutta and now holds an affiliation with the University of Kalyani since 1999. The college that once started to impart knowledge in lighted classrooms amidst the dark of night now shines day-bright with its NAAC accredited version and RUSA backed infrastructural, teaching-learning facilities.

The motto of our college, as embossed in its logo is

“sā vidyā yā vimuktaye”

(Knowledge is that which emancipates)
